 The image shows an infographic flyer for the Lions Quest program. At the top, it says 'What is Lions Quest?' and provides a brief description. Below this, there are two main sections: 'Program Elements' and 'Social Emotional Learning'. 'Program Elements' lists five items: Classroom curriculum with user-friendly lessons, High-quality teacher training and research building, Support for school-wide implementation, Tools for building a positive school culture, and Parent and family engagement/Community engagement. 'Social Emotional Learning' features a circular diagram with five interconnected nodes: Positive emotion, Self-awareness, Social awareness, Character education, and Responsible decision-making. The flyer includes the Lions Quest logo and contact information at the bottom.	Lions Quest Infographic Flyer <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • General Audience • Great for tabling • Includes information on program results and impact

Preventing Youth Drug Addiction with Social and Emotional Learning

Most of the evidence on preventing drug addiction for a teenager only comes from family or therapy, which means addressing what children believe from parents through the school, the teacher and challenging social and academic situations. Other programs exist, but there are no evidence-based methods to guide and assist the teachers. What the center has developed here is an evidence-based model of drug, alcohol and tobacco prevention for social and emotional learning (SEL) programs, which research has shown to be the most effective for youth health, social skills, and academic achievement. Evidence-based methods for youth and adolescent prevention (2012) were available from CASEL, the University of Chicago, Lions Clubs International, and the University of British Columbia.

What is SEL?

Social and emotional learning (SEL) is the process through which children and adults acquire and effectively apply the knowledge, attitudes, and skills necessary to understand and manage emotions, set and achieve positive goals, and demonstrate responsibility for others, and maintain positive relationships and make responsible decisions. (Collaborative for Academic, Social and Emotional Learning (CASEL))

Self-Awareness

The ability to accurately recognize one's own emotions, thoughts, and values and how they influence behavior. The ability to use healthy self-management strategies, with some grounded sense of confidence, optimism, and "grit/resilience."

LCIF Lions Quest Grant Opportunities

Promotional Grants

Amount: Maximum award of $1,000; no matching funds required.

Application: No deadline - Applications reviewed and approved on a rolling basis. Awards are subject to availability.

Purpose: To introduce Lions Quest to a community. This grant is designed to assist districts in improving understanding and communication of the Lions Quest program. Funds are used to host informational seminars for Lions, community members, and/or education or to conduct other relevant promotional activities.

Community Partnership Grants

Amount: Maximum award of $1,000; no matching funds required.

Application: No deadline - Applications reviewed and approved on a rolling basis. Awards are subject to availability.

Purpose: To start Lions Quest programs in new areas, or reactivate dormant programs. Funds may be used to:

- Host one or more teacher training workshops
- Conduct Lions Quest promotional activities, including informational sessions for Lions, education, government officials and other potential partners
- Translate or adapt Lions Quest curriculum materials
- Establish partnerships with school districts, community organizations, and government agencies
- Monitor and evaluate Lions Quest results, both qualitative and quantitative

Lions Quest Humanitarian Initiatives Grants

Amount: Maximum award of $50,000 for single districts or $100,000 for multiple districts, 5 to 1 matching grants.

Application: Due in mid-March (August approval and mid-October for January approval).

Purpose: To expand existing Lions Quest programs. This grant is intended to help (1) expand coverage of Lions Quest in multiple, single or sub-districts where the program is active but not reaching a considerable number of schools, or (2) implement a pilot of Lions Quest programs not yet available in that state or district. This grant enables Lions to greatly expand the reach of Lions Quest, to essentially "fill in the gaps" in areas where the program is needed but not yet available. Funds may be used to:

- Train teachers and train new Lions Quest certified teachers
- Translate, adapt, design, print or purchase feedback materials
- Pay for some administrative expenses
- Commission scientific research on the program and/or development of evaluation framework for ongoing program activities

Note: LCIF grants are not intended to fund existing activity nor be a source of ongoing program financing. Any clubs currently financing the program should continue to do so.
